

ABSTRACT:

A dispersion of fluorocarbon resin in single particle state comprising a mixture of a liquid solvent and fluorocarbon resin particles is sprayed or coated on both sides of a negative electrode mainly composed of a hydrogen absorbing alloy to form a fluorocarbon resin layer in single particle state on both sides of the negative electrode.